Activité orale

Travail à deux : Pardon, où est ?

Work with a partner. You both have maps of a quartier. Some places are missing on your maps and you want to know how to get to them. Ask each other how to get to the missing places and write the names in the blank spaces on your maps.

Note: Refer to document B and document C. Example: Student A: Pardon, je cherche la gare. / Où est la gare, s'il vous plaït? Student B: Pour la gare, vous prenez cette rue là, la rue Saint-Michel et vous allez tout droit. La gare est... Use this space for your notes.

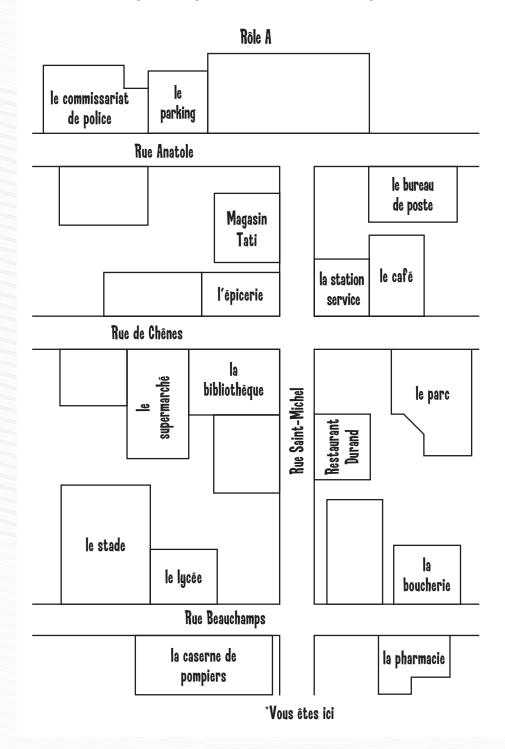

Document B - Pardon, où est...?

Role A

You and your partner both have maps of a town, but you each have different places marked. There are six places not marked on your map and your partner knows where they are. Ask your partner questions to find out where the missing places are, then mark them on your map. Your partner will ask you about the location of six places marked on your map.

When you have finished, compare your maps to check that you have filled in all the missing places correctly.

You are looking for: la gare ; le cinéma ; le collège ; la mairie ; le musée ; la station service.

Document C – Pardon, où est...?

Role B

You and your partner both have maps of a town, but you each have different places marked. There are six places not marked on your map and your partner knows where they are. Ask your partner questions to find out where the missing places are, then mark them on your map. Your partner will ask you about the location of six places marked on your map.

When you have finished, compare your maps to check that you have filled in all the missing places correctly.

You are looking for: le café ; le supermarché ; le bureau de poste ; le parc ; le stade ; le commissariat de police.

